

1. Individual decision-making phase of task

Rank the items according to their importance to your survival, starting with 1 for the most important one and proceeding to 12 for the least important. Work quickly on the problem, alone, and don't discuss the problem with anyone in your group. Record your rankings on the Scoring Sheet, in the Column A labeled, "Individual Ranking." Do not leave any rankings blank.

2. Group decision-making phase of task

In your group you should try to contribute to the goal of reaching a consensus for how the 12 items should be ranked. Make sure that everyone gets involved and discusses what items are most critical for survival in the wilderness. You should try to align yourself with the opinions of the other members since the more everyone agrees the more likely it may be that you and your group members will survive. Once your group has reached consensus, record the group rankings in column B on each item's importance to survival in the table below.
